Statement from the Roman Catholic Diocese of Charleston regarding SAFE Grants

CHARLESTON—The Roman Catholic Diocese of Charleston released the following statement today in response to Gov. Henry McMaster’s announcement of SAFE Grants, a program that will make grants up to $6,500 available to low- and middle-income South Carolina families for use at participating independent schools. The statement can be attributed to Maria Aselage, spokesperson for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Charleston.

“We applaud Gov. McMaster for ensuring South Carolina students can remain in the schools of their choice during these incredibly challenging times.

“This program will provide families across our state the stability they deserve as they face economic hardship and an uncertain future due to COVID-19. We look forward to welcoming new students into our Catholic classrooms in the fall.”
