

St. Joseph the Worker

FEAST DAY: MAY 1

The Feast of St. Joseph the Worker is celebrated on May 1 every year to honor St. Joseph, a carpenter by profession and the patron of workers. This feast day was established by Pope Pius XII in 1955.

On this feast day, the Church celebrates the dignity of work and recognizes the importance of all workers. It is a day to honor all those who labor, whether they work in factories, fields, offices, or homes. Work is not just a means of earning a living, but is also a way to honor God by using our talents and abilities to serve others. When we work with excellence, integrity, and love, we are reflecting the image of God in us.

May the example of St. Joseph inspire us to work with love, integrity, and excellence, and may God bless all those who labor with their hands and their hearts.

ST. JOSEPH, PRAY FOR US!

If men
knew what
eternity is,
they would do everything
to change
their lives.
